

THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1879

Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Trains at Janesville station.

From Milwaukee and East..... 5:30 a.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 12:45 p.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 4:45 p.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 7:45 p.m.

Chicago & Northwestern R.R.

Trains at Janesville station.

From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 5:30 a.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 12:45 p.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 4:45 p.m.
From Chicago, Milwaukee and East..... 7:45 p.m.

WESTERN UNION RAILROAD.

TIME TABLE AT CLINTON JUNCTION.

West Bound.
Day Express..... 10:30 a.m.
Night Express..... 10:11 p.m.

Post-Office,--Summer Time Table.

Mails arrive at the Janesville Post Office as follows:

Chicago and Way..... 1:30 p.m.
Madison and Milwaukee..... 7:30 a.m.

OVER-LAND MAILS ARRIVE.

Centre and Leyden, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays by..... 12:00 m.
Emerald Grove, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays by..... 12:00 m.

Mails close at the Janesville Post Office as follows:

Madison and Milwaukee..... 8 p.m.
Janesville and Milwaukee..... 8:30 p.m.

OVER-LAND MAILS CLOSE.

Centre and Leyden, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays by..... 12:00 m.
Emerald Grove, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays by..... 12:00 m.

On Saturday night only, a through pouch from Chicago is received on the Fond du Lac train.

On Monday morning only, a through pouch is made up and forwarded to Chicago on the 7 o'clock train.

By reading this table carefully, the public can post themselves thoroughly upon the arrival and departure of all the mails, and thus avoid much inconvenience to themselves.

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

HALLUCINATIONS.

Three Somewhat Remarkable Cases of Self-Destruction.

St. Louis Post.

There are several cases on record of hallucinations having caused death. Three of them are interesting. One victim was an old gentleman named Dare, who lived in Dover. He was much afflicted by a deep voice, which he heard continually, whether in the quietude of his room or the noisy bustle of the street.

He would be awakened suddenly in the night by the voice which seemed to know his thoughts almost before he had conceived them. It might be interpreted as subjects of great importance, but supplemented the answer to the question which Dare had been trying to solve by annoying remarks which were often threatening and abusive, and sometimes offensive and distressing.

He spent thousands of dollars for physicians, but they did him no good. His friends resorted to a strange hallucination. She imagined that there was a throbbing, buzzing sensation in her head. It was it myriads of winged insects were pursuing and encircling her with a constant buzz. The imaginary sound was an unpeppable agony.

The tortures she suffered must have been inconceivable. From morning till night, from day to day, from week to week, from the inception of her nervousness to the tragic end of her life the inexorable noise was with her. Sleeping or waking it was the same; the incessant buzz forged link after link of the invisible chain which soon bound her fast, and which no physician could not cure her. On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

Then there is the case of Adolph Verchermer, a resident of Tallahassee, Florida. He was much distressed because of an offensive smell which he imagined proceeded from all parts of his body. He was scrupulously clean, extremely courteous, and thoroughly rational in conversation, and a shrewd business man. Nevertheless, his life was made miserable by his hallucination. He believed that every one he met was irritated and offended by his supposed emanations. He said he often heard them moving about, and coughing, and putting their handkerchiefs to their noses. For some time he hung his clothes out of the window in the night. He would have continued to do so if his housekeeper had not told him that the exhibition of them would excite the notice and comment of his neighbors. The way he spent the night was singular. From 9 to 11 o'clock he slept on the ground floor, then mounted higher, and at 1 o'clock got still higher up, in order, as he said, to prevent the bad odors from becoming concentrated in one room. His friends tried to reason with him, but it was useless. No one could explain anything to him. He died in the night, and his friends found him in a chair, and his face was pale and his hands were cold.

On the 10th of May, about two months after the beginning of her imaginative complaint, she suddenly turned while sitting in a chair, and, clasping her hands on her head, ran from the house to the garden wall, into which she deliberately jumped. Before assistance arrived life was extinct.

INHUMAN ABANDONMENT.

Two Stage Passengers Deserted on the Top of the Rocky Mountains.

Leadville, (Col.) Revelle, January 5.

Our citizens will remember of the whirling, boisterous snow storm that prevailed in Leadville on New Year's day, and they can easily imagine how much more severe and blinding the storm must have been on the bleak summit of Western Pass. On that day the stage line known as the South Park company had so large a list of passengers that an extra wagon was provided, and in it four passengers took their seats. When this comfortable vehicle was within a mile or a mile and a half of the pass on either side, the passengers were told to walk or else they could not proceed no farther. The driver finally gave peremptory commands to get out and walk. Two of them hung on the tail board to keep up and to obtain slight protection from the driving snow as this slight barricade afforded against the furious blast coming squarely in their faces. As there was room for only two at the rear of the wagon the other two passengers, McNamara and James Burns, struggled and piddled along behind in the deep snow as best they could. One of them, Mr. Burns, being unaccustomed to the high altitude, and to such a strain upon his naturally vigorous constitution, began to lag, and to require from his more robust companion greater assistance than mere words of encouragement. The driver agreed to wait for them when the summit was reached, and with this fond hope to animate them, they toiled forward and in a thoroughly exhausted condition reached the top of the range, only to experience the keen disappointment of finding the wagon gone and themselves abandoned upon one of the most exposed spots of the Rocky mountains, in a terrible storm. The evidence in the snow which is to follow this month's abandonment will show that the driver waited only a few moments for these two men and then deliberately proceeded on his way, leaving them to make the next station or perish in the snow. The wind was filled with the track with snow, and only with great difficulty and delay could they keep the road by feeling with their feet for the beaten trail. After struggling along for a mile on this side, they stopped for consultation upon the desperate situation in which they realized themselves to be. Being strangers and totally unfamiliar with the surroundings they had no idea that Rock Point station was only three miles from them, on a down grade. Knowing that there was a station behind them they finally decided to retrace their steps, actually toiled back to the summit and down the weary bleak eight miles to Platte station, where they found shelter, food and help.

McNamara and Burns sought legal advice and have placed their suit for damages in the hands of Judge Newson, of the town of Leadville, and of Leadville, Colo. Dr. Law being called in, examined the men, and found one of them had a leg solidly frozen. The doctor tried needles into the limb, and his owner never flinched. One hand of the other is badly frozen, being somewhat more exposed by holding a basket in front of his face. The boys intend to push the suit to the bitter end. The damages sued for will be some $8,000 to $10,000 each.

The Water Torture in Japan.

From the Japan Gazette.

The originators of this cruel device relied upon the torment of thirst as more powerful than mere corporal suffering. The prisoner is for several days confined to an extremely salt diet, without rice or water. When two or three days have passed the craving for water becomes incessant, and the sufferings of the tortured man approach the bounds of insanity. Efforts are then made to obtain confession by subjecting the sufferer to the agony endured by sailors when in the midst of the interior lake, whose waters he could not touch. On all sides the thirst-distracted prisoner beholds water--water for which he cannot touch except upon the condition of confession.

It is related that Professor Simon Newcomb, of the naval observatory at Washington, attended a wedding recently with a friend. After the ceremony, he advanced with the others to pay his respects to the bride and groom. Approaching, he suddenly shook hands with each, but said not a word. As he turned away, his friend, surprised, said, "Why didn't you say something to the bride?" The solemn professor, whose nothing it is not scientific, answered, "Why, I didn't think that I had any new facts to impart."

Henry Morrissey, who fought on the Victory at Trafalgar, saw Nelson fall, and subsequently with his own leg broken by a shot, has just died at Halifax, aged 94 years.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Notice

Having this Day Sold our Interest in the Grocery Trade

To Messrs. C. P. Randall & Co., who will continue the business at our old stand, corner of Court & Main Streets, we are desirous of closing up all our accounts. All parties owing to us will please call at the Office of the Wisconsin Shoe Co., and settle their account by note or cash without delay. Yours respectfully, G. W. HAWES, Janesville, Jan. 7, 1879. Jan5dawit

GRAND DISTRIBUTION

Commonwealth Distribution Company.

By authority of Commonwealth of Kentucky, Drawing and details under supervision of prominent citizens of Kentucky, in the city of Louisville, on

Thursday Jan. 30, 1879

NO SCALING! NO POSTPONEMENT.

PRIZES PAID IN FULL!

$115,400 In Cash

TICKETS ONLY $2!

UNPARALLELED SUCCESS OF THE POPULAR DRAWINGS.

Read the following attractive list of prizes for the JANUARY DRAWING:

1 Prize.....$30,000 100 prizes $100 each $10,000

20 ".....10,000 50 " 50 " 25,000

10 ".....5,000 200 " 20 " 10,000

20 ".....500 10,000

9 Prizes $30 each, Approximation Prizes.....$2,700

9 Prizes $20 each.....1,800

9 Prizes 10 each.....900

1,900 Prizes.....$115,400

Whole tickets $2. Half tickets $1.00

27 Tickets, $50. 55 Tickets, $100

Remit by Post Office Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or Express. Full list of drawings published in Louisville Courier-Journal and for Kentucky, and mailed to ticket holders.

WEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO., or T. J. COMPTON, Secy, Corner Journal building, Louisville, Ky.

CONTINUATION OF Mickey & Bros. Great Closing Out Sale

Special Bargains in Useful Articles for HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

LADIES' MINK SETS at NET COST

Ladies' Cloaks in Matlasse, Diagonals and Plain

Beavers at Still Lower Prices.

A Splendid Galaxy of Bargains in our Millinery

Department--all our wool Felt Hats reduced to 40

Cents Each.

Two-Toned Satin Ribbons

IN ALL SHADES.

LADIES' KID GLOVES.

In 2 Buttons, at 50 Cents per pair, the best value in the State.

Ladies' Silk Handkerchiefs--the Largest Variety ever seen in this city.

MOKEY & BRO.

24 & 26 Main Street.

EMBROIDERIES.

First Arrival for 1879!

Just Received this Morning at the

CENTENNIAL DRY GOODS STORE

The Largest and Most Complete Assortment of

Hamburg Edgings & Insertings

Ever brought to this City, at Prices Fully 25 Per Cent. Lower than Last Season.

January 18th, 1879.

myl2dew-41wocwif

J. & D. CREIGHTON.

17 & 19 Main Street, Janesville.

The Gold Coin

Is the only Stove with Double Tin Pot, the Only Stove with Two

Silver Rails, will Heat with 10 Per Cent. Less Coal,

And will Boil in one third less time than any of its Competitors.

PRICES LOW!

Being determined to

Close Out My Entire Stock of STOVES

Before Christmas, have marked

PRICES THAT CANNOT BE BEATEN!

Give us a Call.

25 Main Street. G. M. HANCHETT.

The Plankinton House!

There has been added to this Splendid Hotel one of the finest Cafes in the Country, where meals are served at all hours.

H. B. SHERMAN, Proprietor

myl2dew-41wocwif

myl2dew-41wocwif

myl2dew-41wocwif

myl2dew-41wocwif

COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

Proceedings of the Board of Supervisors, at the January Session.

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK, J. J. KANEVILLE, JANUARY 23, 1879.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, C. C. Keeler in the chair.

Roll called.

The following members present:

Messrs. Allen, Barnes, Carr, Conley, Eldredge, Foot, Felt, Gunn, Harper, Howard, Keith, Kendall, Menzies, Metcalf, McIntyre, Nowlan, Pratt, Rogers, Rathern, Rice, Slaymaker, Thon, Towne, Towne, Van Wart, Ward, Keeler.

Quorum present.

Mr. Gardner, member from Bradford, being unable to attend this meeting of the Board, Mr. Headrick of Bradford, was allowed to take his seat, and the chair appointed Mr. Headrick to act on the same committee as Mr. Gardner would act on.

Mr. Foot presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the County of Rock will hereafter pay bounties on wolves as follows:

Ten dollars on each wolf killed within said Rock county between the first day of November and the first day of March, and five dollars for each wolf killed between the first day of March and the first day of November in each year.

Second, All acts and resolutions conflicting with the provisions of this resolution are hereby repealed.

Resolution adopted.

Whereas, Reports are in circulation in regard to supposed wrongful allowances to jurors in attendance in the Circuit Court, Therefore,

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Circuit Court be requested to report to this Board, on or before the first day of March, the amount of such allowances in regard thereto, so as to fully advise the Board in that regard.

Resolution adopted.

Mr. Towne introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, By the County Board of Rock County, That our members of the Legislature be requested to use their influence in securing an amendment to the constitution of this State, so that the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin so that the same will read as follows:

No person shall be a prisoner any court or officer, except Police and Justice courts, $1.50 per day, besides actual necessary expenses.

Adopted.

Mr. Eldredge from Special Committee made the following report:

To the County Board of Supervisors of Rock County, Your Committee appointed under resolution of this Board to examine and report as to the feasibility of changing the location of the County Poor House.

Visited the County Poor House and Farm and have and the subject of said resolution under consideration.

That they found the Poor House and all things pertaining thereto in excellent order, and the condition and comfort of the inmates, gave evidence of the kind and constant care on the part of those in immediate charge thereof. That the condition and capacity of the Poor House and other buildings are adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

The capacity of the Poor House and other buildings is adequate and sufficient for the purpose of the County for which now used for the same.

Amount disbursed by V Atwood during year 1878.

Cash in Supt Atwood's hands Jan 1st, 1879.

Total amount expended by the Superintendent of the poor for the support of paupers and for the relief of indigent persons from Jan 1st 1878, to Jan 1st 1879.

Salaries of Superintendents of poor.

Your committee further report that they have examined the list of names of persons in justice courts of two years' standing or over, and herewith present the same with the county orders and certificates paid and cancelled, for your disposal.

Your Committee also find to be due to Rock county from other counties, as follows:

Fond du Lac county.

Walworth county.

Dane county.

We also find county orders which have remained two years or more uncanceled for the amount of $1,000.00.

We also find warrants and orders remaining uncanceled for two years or more and which have remained for the amount of $71.56.

Respectfully submitted.

LEVI B. CARLE, E. A. FOWLER, J. P. THOMAS, Committee.

STATEMENT A-COUNTY TREASURER'S REPORT.

To the Hon. the Board of Supervisors of Rock County.

I have the honor to respectfully submit the following statement of receipts and disbursements of the County Treasurer for the year 1878.

AMOUNT RECEIVED 1878, Jan 1.

Cash on hand.

Received on appropriation.

Total.

AMOUNT PAID.

Paid for fuel, (see schedule A).

Paid for printing (see schedule B).

Paid for blank books (see schedule C).

Paid for stationery and law books (see schedule D).

Paid for incidentals (see schedule E).

1878, Jan 1st, cash on hand.

Total.

SCHEDULE A-FUEL.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

stationery.

County orders.

miscellaneous.

paid to and city treasurers for making returns.

Tax certificates on hand.

deeds.

Uncollected personal property tax of 1877.

Uncollected tax of 1877 on real estate.

Total disbursements.

Cash in hand.

Dated January 31, 1879.

Annual report of S. Morgan, County Clerk, for the year ending December 31, 1878.

Fees received on account of redemption of bonds and tax certificates.

Fees paid County Treasurer.

Redemption money on hand subject to call on presentation of redeemed certificates.

Respectfully submitted.

S. MORGAN, County Clerk.

STATEMENT D.

Annual report of S. Morgan, County Agent for the year ending December 31, 1878.

To the Hon. the Board of Supervisors of Rock County.

I have the honor to submit to your honorable body a report of all the moneys received and disbursed by me as County Agent, and also the amount of moneys received from the County of Rock during the year 1878, and since last annual report.

AMOUNT RECEIVED 1878, Jan 1.

Cash on hand.

Received on appropriation.

Total.

AMOUNT PAID.

Paid for fuel, (see schedule A).

Paid for printing (see schedule B).

Paid for blank books (see schedule C).

Paid for stationery and law books (see schedule D).

Paid for incidentals (see schedule E).

1878, Jan 1st, cash on hand.

Total.

SCHEDULE A-FUEL.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

June 1st, paid H. H. H. & Atwood for fuel.

